Drugs, Food to Buy Prisoners Set to Deliver

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The freighter African Pilot arrived today at Port Everglades to transport millions of dollars worth of medicines and foodstuffs to Cuba to buy the freedom of 1,113 invasion prisoners if a barter deal with Fidel Castro materializes.

The Coast Guard patrolled the area where the 10,000-ton vessel tied up at 9:30 a.m. after a trip from Baltimore, Md.

Available for immediate loading were 11 box cars of barter supplies transported to the port, 30 miles north of Miami by the Florida East Coast and Seaboard Air Line railroads.

Other materials were being stockpiled by the American Red Cross, sponsor of the prisoner exchange deal, a suburban Opa-Locka Airport.

Representatives of U.S. government agencies, including immigration, health and state departments, prepared at Homestead Air Force Base south of Miami to receive the prisoners if they arrive.

James B. Donovan, the man who may have the answer, plans to return to Havana today after a flight to Miami Wednesday night. Donovan said he had submitted to Castro a preliminary list of medicines and drugs already contributed to the American Red Cross for shipment to Cuba. The Castro government prepared an analysis of the list.

Donovan had that analysis with

The autos sideswiped and Mrs. Powell was thrown from her auto and was run over. She sustained shoulder, rib and possible internal injuries. Her condition is considered serious. Her two children, one suffering from a shoulder injury were also treated at a local hospital.

Police Chief Jack Brown, State Police Sgt. Guy Downing and City Officers Milam and McCulley investigated. Mrs. Daugherty was charged with reckless driving. A check at a local hospital this morning revealed the injured were "resting well."

The Famous Lady Rests in a Vault

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—In Vault X of the National Gallery of Art, a celebrated lady rested today, waiting for somebody to let her out of a box so she can turn her inscrutable smile on Americans.

Under security guard seldom accorded a queen, the Mona Lisa of Leonardo da Vinci, the world's most famous portrait, arrived Wednesday from the Paris Louvre.

An ambassador of good will, she will be unveiled Jan. 8 by President Kennedy before a throng of notables, including members of the new Congress.

After three weeks in Washington, the 450-year-old painting will move on to the Metropolitan Museum in New York, then possibly to other American cities, before going home to France.

The Mona Lisa made the Atlantic crossing on the liner France. At New York Wednesday, her aluminum and plastic box, airconditioned to duplicate the humidity and temperature of the Louvre, was loaded with ceremony into a small black van.

In a seven-car caravan, the van sped to the capital. Eyes of Secret Service men, assigned by Kennedy, roved right and left. Soldiers turned out to guard the way. In every state en route, state police formed a motorcycle escort. Tunnels were closed to ordinary traffic.

The Mona Lisa is priceless, although one figure mentioned as her value is $100 million. No insurance was taken out for her transatlantic passage—the rates would have been prohibitive.

In France, some art critics and others had raised protests against the painting's voyage to the New World. They thought of the storms at sea, of possible portrait pirates, and, above all, of chances in humidity that might flake the paint off the aged panel of poplar wood.

Why then, did the French permit the Mona Lisa to come? Mainly, it is a gesture of amity. The French know, for example, that Jacqueline Kennedy has an insatiable yearning for art.

Mrs. Clark, 86, Succumbs in Local Hospital

Mrs. Mattie Clark, aged 86, died early Wednesday in a local hospital. She was a lifelong resident of Hempstead County. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Henry Robinson, of Hope, two sons Joe of Oklahoma City, and John of Stephens, Ark., three brothers, Cleveland Barrett, of Chidester Ark., Henry Barrett, and Tildon of Little Rock, a sister Mrs. Emma Rowe of Chidester.

Services were to be at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Herndon Chapel by Rev. Clyde Johnson officiating. Burial will be in DeAnn Cemetery.

Presbyterian Cantata Is Sunday a.m.

The choir under the direction of Mrs. R. L. Gosnell will present a Christmas Cantata "Star in the Sky" at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 10:55. Tena Pilkinton and Suzanne Booth will sing a duet. Mrs. Thomas E. Hays, Jr. will sing solo. Leading parts in the Cantata will be taken by Mrs. Haskell Jones, Cissie Ellis and Jan Ellis. There will be a brief message by the minister on the subject "The Divider of the Years."

Drinking at P.O. in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—A crack-down has been ordered on drinking in the Washington Post Office. Officials said on-the-job drinking has become so widespread that mail operations have been disrupted.

On Dec. 1 and 2, Postmaster O. G. Beall said, 400 empty liquor bottles were found in the main post office.

As a result, orders have been issued barring alcoholic beverages from the premises, on penalty of suspension or even firing the employee involved.

A. E. Newton, postal regional director for the Washington area, said drinking on the job by postal workers has increased greatly since a postal pay raise Oct. 13.

U.S. Attorney General Back From Brazil

By LOUIS DE LA HABA

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's heralded trip to Brazil has underlined sharp U.S. concern with that country's deep economic and political problems.

The attorney general returned to Washington Tuesday after conferring in Brasilia, Brazil's capital, with President Joao Goulart.

It was believed he emphasized Washington's worry over the Goulart administration's failure to stem a ravaging tide of inflation.

President Kennedy has also signaled his concern over Brazil's problems—a key nation in South America because of its size and influence.

Within the past few weeks the President has had a series of conversations with such figures as Adhemar de Barros, newly elected governor of Sao Paulo; former president Juscelino Kubitschek and the U.S. ambassador to Brazil, Lincoln Gordon.

The attorney general expanded a trip to Panama in order to make the 12-hour visit in Brazil. The communique which followed the 3½-hour Kennedy-Goulart discussion was the usual diplomatic statement that the talks were "useful."

The attorney general was unavailable for comment on his return.

The major cause for the urgent U.S. concern is altopping inflation. President Kennedy noted at his news conference last week that Brazil inflation "eats up our aid" but he also remarked that "there is nothing, really, that the United States can do."

On the other side, Brazilians contend a definite improvement of the financial situation is in the works, through measures planned for after the Jan. 6 plebiscite, which is expected to return the country to the presidential system of government.

Then, Brazilian sources say Goulart will have the necessary authority to carry out the reforms.

PARSONS, Kan. (AP)—Rees Hughes was a heartick 9-year-old when he couldn't find his new basketball shirt before leaving the church gym.

The coach had passed out the uniforms that day and Rees was happy to get one. Adults helped in the search, but the basketball shirt couldn't be found.

Rees went home, undressed to take a bath and found it—under his regular shirt.

Vaccine Type for Arkansas Is Okayed

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—The U.S. Surgeon General's recommendation Wednesday for approval of Type III Sabin polio vaccine will not affect immunization programs in Arkansas, a state Medical Society official said.

Dr. Roger Bost, chairman of the state Medical Society's committee on polio, said there would not be time now to revert to a statewide immunization program, such as was planned before the controversy on the third type of the vaccine arose in September.

He also said that use of the vaccine has not been approved by the U.S. Public Health Service and that it is not known yet in what quantities the vaccine would be available.

The committee had urged last September that a statewide program be set up with use of the Sabin vaccine, and 73 of the 75 Arkansas counties had agreed to do so, Bost said. After the controversy on the third type arose the statewide program was dropped but some counties have gone ahead with programs, using Types I and II of the vaccine, which are considered safe.

Washington County held a highly successful program after 10 cases of polio were reported within a two-week period, resulting in the death of a youngster.

Madison, Hempstead and Miller counties and some communities in the state have conducted programs on their own.

Pulaski County has scheduled its program in January, using Type M Washington County plans to administer Type II in January.

Even if the Public Health Service follows the recommendation of Surgeon General Luther Terry, Bost said, the vaccine still must gain approval of the state Medical Society before it is used in Arkansas.

Then, use of it would be up to the individual county officials, he added.

The society's polio committee will probably meet in January. Bost said, but it has not scheduled a session because of the Wednesday announcement.

Bost said it is "too early to tell yet" about the vaccine and that he felt the committee may want to see it successfully used in other areas before it is used in Arkansas. Around the nation, some state groups reported similar feelings.

The committee's position is, however, that each county should conduct its own clinic with the approved Sabin types, to fight the disease.

"There is no doubt," he said, "that the Sabin vaccine, when properly administered, will prevent a lot of polio cases next summer."

There were 390 cases of polio reported in Arkansas in 1959, Bost said, but only 123 last year.

Clerks Seek to Bar Warrant Publications

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas County Clerks Association will seek repeal of a 1914 law requiring that counties publish warrants.

That group said at a Little Rock meeting Wednesday publication of the warrants is an unnecessary expense and that the law is not followed in most counties. The cost would be prohibitive in large counties.

The association also voted to draft a bill to change the date of the school elections annually from the first Tuesday in December to the last Tuesday in September. The new date would facilitate preparation of tax books early each year, the association said.

The warrant law also requires cities to publish a list of expenditures and funds received. Association members said they would talk with municipal officials to try to enlist their aid in getting the law repealed.

No Stand on Weight Law AHD Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Highway Commission Chairman John E. Crahan of Wilson said Wednesday his organization would take no stand on an expected move in the 1963 Legislature to get truck weight limits increased.

The Highway Department opposed a truck weight bill in 1961 and it was defeated. The measure was tied to a modest license fee increase.

Another effort to get an increase in weight limits this year is considered a certainty and it has been rumored that the department might support the move if it was linked to a sizeable increase in truck license fees.

In 1961, highway officials said Arkansas roads, except for the Interstate system, were not constructed to handle loads up to the proposed limit of over 73,000 pounds.

The limit now is 64,500. The single axle weight limit is 18,000 pounds.

The Highway Commission is technically authorized to set weight limits within maximums set by law and it could fix a lower limit even if the legislature authorized an increase.

Highway commissioners now can tell trucks who want a boost in the maximum limit that they are helpless. If the legislature approves a new weight law, it would put all the pressure on the commissioners.

The commission also will not take a stand on a suggestion that the gasoline tax be raised one cent a gallon to help finance rural road construction.

The commission re-stated opposition to a Legislative Council proposal to allocate an additional $3 million a year of highway funds for rural roads construction.

F. R. Oliver, highway director, said a diversion of funds might jeopardize the department's ability to match federal funds allocated for improvement of secondary roads.

U.S. Behind Scenes in Prisoner Deal

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is playing a passive role onstage in the negotiations for the release of 1,113 Bay of Pigs prisoners, but it is moving with full force behind the scenes.

The involvement of the U. S. government in the negotiations can be demonstrated by any close check of the statements and activities of negotiators and government officials since negotiations began shortly after the abortive invasion of Cuba in April 1961.

Reports from Havana indicate the negotiators may be very close to securing the release of the Cubans captured in the U.S.-directed invasion. Fidel Castro, in exchange for $53-million worth of food, drugs and equipment, may send the men back to the United States before Christmas.

President Kennedy has tried to disassociate himself from the negotiating committee's efforts. "This is being done by the private committee," he said at his Dec. 12 news conference, "and I am very sympathetic to their efforts."

But the committee, to stage the kind of operation the exchange involves, would need more than sympathy from the President.

The American Red Cross has reported that railroads, airlines and trucking firms are working round-the-clock to push the thousands of pounds of food and medicine into Florida for quick shipment to Cuba in case the deal is completed.

There have been reports that the President's brother Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy is directing the government operation in support of the committee and its chief negotiator, lawyer James B. Donovan.

In New York, business sources said that Atty. Gen. Kennedy had made the requests for some of the food and drugs being readied for shipment to Cuba.

These sources said Kennedy described himself as acting as a private person, rather than as an administration official. Kennedy told the sources, they said, that the operation had the full support of the President but there were legal objections to his direct participation.

They said the attorney general also told them Castro might raise his price if he believed the government, rather than private parties, was supplying the food and drugs.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today forecast the 1963 winter wheat crop at 1,028,374,000 bushels.

This figure compares with 816,379,000 bushels produced this year, 1,075,005,000 last year and 876,232,000 for the 10-year (1952-61) average.

No forecast was given for spring wheat inasmuch as it unlike the winter wheat crop, has not yet been seeded.

Talks Effort to Show U.S., Britain Unity

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan waded into a maze of complicated problems today in a determined effort to show the world that British-American friendship remains strong despite a wrangle over nuclear strategy.

The crush of their work forced them to prolong their talks an extra day.

The two were reported making progress toward a compromise on their divergent views of the value of the controversial Skybolt missile. The atmosphere in this sun-bathed resort, seemed to be one of rising hope.

The President and the prime minister were confronted by a long list of cold war problems as they got together at 10 a.m. at the hilltop mansion occupied by the U.S. chief executive on a breeze-swept hill overlooking the sea.

Top presidential aides advising Kennedy on cold war problems were standing by for the moment when the talks get into specific cold war areas. Aides included Phillip Talbot, assistant secretary of state for Near East and South Asian affairs; W. Averell Harriman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs; and J.

Proves Lakers Have the Depth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Coach Fred Schaus wasn't exactly anxious to prove it, but he inadvertently was able to let the National Basketball Association know that his Los Angeles Lakers have the depth that champions are made of.

Schaus' ace backcourt man, Jerry West, was injured and unable to play, and big Rudy LaRusso was hampered by a sore ankle for Wednesday night's game against the St. Louis Hawks.

So...

Dick Barnett moved into West's spot and scored 27 points. Jim Krebs started in place of LaRusso and chipped in 18. And with Elgin Baylor firing in 37 and Frank Selvy 18, the Lakers romped to a 135-106 victory—their sixth in a row and one that stretched their Western Division lead to 4½ games over the second-place Hawks.

In other NBA action, Arlen Buckhorn scored early and Oscar Robertson scored late and the Cincinnati Royals whipped Syracuse 129-120; and Detroit blew a 10-point lead, then rallied to edge Chicago 115-113.

Team Couldn't Even Leave Town

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Philadelphia "Tapers" couldn't even leave town today. They had to face the Kansas City Steers again tonight.

That could not be a pleasant prospect after the 117-84 beating the Steers handed them Wednesday night at Kansas City, on the heels of a 119-106 whipping Tuesday. It was the seventh straight for the American Basketball League leaders, and moved them 2½ games in front of the pack.

The other four teams in the ABL were idle.

Butts in on Goal Tending Battle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stan Mikita butted in on a private goal-tending battle and with one swipe of his stick took over the National Hockey League scoring lead and sent the Chicago Black Hawks into undisputed first place.

Mikita managed the double feat Wednesday night against the Boston Bruins. His oal with 2 minutes, 40 seconds left gave the Black Hawks a 3-2 victory in the only NHL game scheduled.

Before Mikita's goal, Johnny Bucyk had poured through two goals for the Bruins and Murray Balfour had two for the Black Hawks.

Mikita's goal gave him 12 for the year. He has 18 assists for 30 points, one more than Gordie Howe of Detroit and Andy Bathgate of New York.

Castro has demanded the equivalent of about $53 million in supplies before he will release the prisoners.

Donovan's plane from Havana sidestepped Miami International Airport and landed at a seldom-used air strip a mile distant. When reporters and photographers arrived, the plane's occupants had vanished.

A cargo ship, the S.S. African Pilot, approached Port Everglades, Fla., to take on medicines and other supplies being donated to the Red Cross for shipment to Cuba as the price for release of the captives.

In Cuba, Castro was described by an official of the prisoners' committee as sharing the negotiators' hope for a quick exchange of his captives for U.S. food and medicine. Cuba is painfully short of both commodities.

Seton Player Grabs Honors

NEW YORK (AP)—To the surprise of practically no one, Seton Hall's Nick Werkman has grabbed the early lead in the individual scoring race among the nation's major college basketball players.

Werkman has an average of 37.7 points a game in the first rating of the season today by the NCAA Service Bureau, a healthy 5-point-plus margin over Barry Kramer of New York University, second with a 32.0 average. The averages are based on games through Dec. 15.

Werkman, now a 6-foot-3 junior, had a 33-point average last season, finishing third behind the now graduated Bill McGill of Utah and Jack Foley of Holy Cross.

On a team level, Chicago Loyola's Ramblers also took up this season just where they left off, holding a wide margin in team scoring. They're averaging a whopping 109.0 points a game.

Rules Arkansas Plant Unfair

WASHINGTON (AP)—A ruling by a trial examiner that the Byrds Manufacturing Corp. of Star City, Ark. had engaged in unfair labor practices was affirmed Wednesday by the National Labor Relations Board.

Harold X. Summers, the examiner, had recommended that the company stop discouraging membership in the International Ladies Garment Workers Union (AFL-CIO) or any other labor organizations.

He also recommended, after a hearing last March, that the firm rehire four employees that had been dismissed, that it stop questioning employees as to their interest in or activities on behalf of a labor organization and that the plant management be ordered to stop threatening to close or move operations from Star City.

An anti-union ordinance on the Star City books was repealed last summer.

HERE'S ONE WIFE WHO CHAMPIONS THE HUSBANDS' CAUSE

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I could sit down and weep for the poor husbands of those complaining, nagging, moody-mouthed wives who write you. They enjoy being martyrs.

When I read the letters of those "put-upon" wives in your column I say, "She's getting what she deserves." It's the poor guy who got caught hook, line and sinker; that's the real victim. No woman should marry simply because he's handy and a meal ticket.

I married my second husband for love and a chance to make him happy. He knows it. The children and I treat him like a king. As a result he's forever going without himself to get something for us.

Most women seem to have forgotten, because of their growing independence, that their men rate special respect, consideration and honor. Roll out the red velvet carpet for them on Christmas and every other day of the year! I say to those carping wives: Don't lick a guy when he's down. After all, you did kind of rope him in, didn't you? In heaven with my second chance at love and life. —Lois Russ, Concord, Calif.

Dear Mrs. Ross: Your letter is refreshing because it's partisan. There is truth to what you say but it's equally true that many men deserve what they get, being disloyal, selfish and selfish themselves. I'm glad the carping wives do write me.

Dear Helen: Those cry-baby wives make me sick. Lord knows I've had enough trouble to weep the Mississippi full of tears but my philosophy is, "Make the best of what you've got. Forget the worst." I'm the mother of seven, deserted by a philandering husband. The kids are the hub around which my life revolves. We do everything together and have fun; play games, take walks, read about far countries and study subjects like zoology, science or whatever interests us at the moment.

We are young and gay (I'm only 37 — got married at 17). Maybe some day they Daddy will come back. Meanwhile, thanks to my folks, we have a roof over our heads, food in our bellies and happiness in our hearts. Am I right or wrong? —W. F.

Dear W. F.: You're doing just what you should do. I'm sure there are many more wives like you. Your reward will be in a properly reared family. Go easy about spending the welcome mat out for that irresponsible husband of yours — at least until he gives material proof that he's worthy of being called a father and husband.

Dear Helen: If husbands could find it in their hearts to continue the honeymoon, there would be fewer divorces. What gets into men anyway? When one comes along like the bachelor, who was chivalrous to women, I give three cheers. Publish more letters from men like him — if you have any — just to show the selfish husband what a real man can be. Bachelor is to be congratulated. Why aren't there more like him? —Mrs. M. E. S.

Dear Mrs. S.: Back of every considerate and decent man you'll find a mother who was gifted with the character, grit and courage to both inspire and discipline them.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Keystones of the Home."

Talks Effort

Kenneth Gabbath, U.S. ambassador to India.

Kennedy and Macmillan added morning and afternoon sessions Friday to their schedule. The President planned to leave about 5 p.m. Friday for Palm Beach. White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said a communique will be issued after the final session.

The reason for prolonging the conference, Salinger said, was "not just the Skybolt, but it is all of the NATO defense matters as well."

"There is no question that we are making good progress," Salinger said. "The agenda was just too great to be handled in two days."

Still to be discussed were such cold war matters as the aftermath of the Cuban crisis, the Chinese-Indian conflict, Moscow's ideological battle with the Red Chinese and the variety of puzzles it presents.

Nuclear problems, Skybolt and the prospects of a new Soviet-sparked crisis in the Congo gobbled up the two leaders' time Wednesday. The most nagging question was Britain's resistance to U.S. plans to scrap Skybolt, the American missile which Britain planned to use as its chief independent nuclear weapon.

Although a compromise was reported in prospect, this in itself generated a maze of other complicated problems involving the whole Western defense posture.

Kennedy and Macmillan talked for four and a half hours at scheduled sessions Wednesday and also through a "working lunch."

Saturday's Bluebonnet bowl game.

A dense fog that has plagued Houston the past four days prevented Missouri from arriving Wednesday night. Coach Dan Devine decided not to risk the flight and held his team in Kansas City overnight.

Bluebonnet officials brass bands, and alumni delegations were to greet the teams at the International Airport.

Dominican to Vote in Free Election

By ROBERT BERRELLZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Dominicans voted today in their first free general elections in 38 years. Most of them hoped the result, expected to be known by Christmas Eve, would mean stable representative government after long years of dictatorship.

The closing campaign hours were marked Wednesday night by a brief outbreak of rioting in the capital. Riot police quickly restored order after three persons were injured by rocks.

Young agitators from the 14th of June Movement, a pro-Castro group, were in the middle of the rock-throwing, pistol-firing melee with followers of the conservative National Civic Union.

Dr. Viriato A. Fiallo, 67, of the Civic Union, and Juan Bosch, 53, of the left-center Dominican Revolutionary party, were leading candidates for president in a five-man contest.

Bosch was a narrow favorite. The chief question was whether his peasant followers had remained in his camp after a Jesuit priest made and retracted the charge that the party is Communist. Bosch dropped demands for a postponement of the election when the charge was withdrawn. The voters also balloted for a vice president, a Congress of 74 deputies and 26 senators, and local and city officials.

The Congress will draft a new constitution. Freed of dictatorship by the assassination of Rafael Trujillo in May 1961, 800,000 to 1,000,000 Do-

Wallace at Last Highway Board Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Glen Wallace of Nashville, the last state highway commissioner who was not appointed by Gov. Orval E. Faubus, attended his final commission meeting Wednesday.

Wallace, 69, was one of the original commissioners named by Gov. Francis Cherry when the commission was reorganized under the Mack-Blackwell Amendment.

Faubus has given no indication whether he will reappoint Wallace. The commissioner said Wednesday he has not been asked by the governor if he would like reappointment.

Wallace's term expires Jan. 14. minicans, from 18 years up, were eligible to vote. Illiterates make up about 50 per cent of the population.

There is even a lack of informed speculation on who the governor might choose.

Cherry named Wallace, Dan Portis of Lepanto, Miss Willie Lawson of Little Rock, Raymond Orr of Fort Smith and Cecil Lynch of Pine Bluff to 10-year terms of the original commission.

Faubus has made seven appointments thus far. Lawrence Blackwell of Pine Bluff was named to fill Lynch's unexpired term after Lynch was killed in a highway accident. Faubus named Truman Baker to the commission when Blackwell's term expired.

When Harry Parkin of Little Rock, a Faubus appointee, resigned so his firm could bid for state printing contracts, Faubus named Wayne Hampton of Stuttgart to his post.

John Crain of Wilson was named to the post when his father, Jim Crain, resigned because of ill health. The elder Crain was Faubus' first appointee to the commission, in 1955.

The fifth commissioner is Arnil Taylor of Clarksville, who replaced Orr.

The term of one commissioner expires each two years under the Mack-Blackwell Amendment—passed on the theory that no governor would ever appoint a majority of the members.

Normally no governor ever would have done so, but Faubus broke the two-term gubernatorial tradition by winning five consecutive terms.

Ruling Favors School Workers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Attorney General's office ruled Wednesday employees of state institutions of higher learning are eligible to take advantage of a new federal income tax regulation on sheltered annuities.

Employees of such institutions, under the regulation, may use up to 20 per cent of their incomes to buy stock and bonds without paying income tax on the amount. No tax is charged on money spent for the bonds until they are sold. But interest on the bonds is taxable.

The opinion specifically covered employees at Henderson State Teachers College, but would also Polk County Clerk Max Edens said it costs his county $600 twice a year to publish warrants.

Association members pointed out, in discussing the change in the school election date, that there is little time left between the December election and preparation of the tax books in January.

Dr. Dooley's Hospital Surviving

By ANTOINE YARED

BAN HOUET SAI, Laos (AP)—The last of the late Dr. Thomas Dooley's hospitals in Laos survives in this sleepy little Mekong River town—handicapped by the lack of a doctor and the nearness of unfriendly territory.

Three young Americans are carrying on the work of the jungle doctor who died of cancer in January 1961 after founding small hospitals in this underdeveloped Southeast Asian kingdom.

Dooley's death and world politics may have combined to bring about a decline in the kind of medical missionary work once practiced here.

Of the three hospitals Dooley started in Laos, only this one survived the two-year civil war that raked the kingdom of leftist, rightist and neutralist factions vied for power.

Ven Ban Houet Sai is doing its work on a shoestring.

The last doctor left in October; another may come next summer.

Miss Zola A. Watson of Portland, Ore., is director of nurses in the Dooley Foundation which runs the hospital.

"This is not an ideal setup until we get a doctor," she says.

Miss Watson's companions are Tim Ford, a 21-year-old former Army medic from Indianapolis, Ind., and Reginald F. Gordon 25, a surgical technician from Schemata, N.Y.

Miss Watson says several physicians have indicated they want to work in this remote corner of Laos after finishing their postgraduate studies next June.

About a dozen Laotians call at the clinic every day on an outpatient basis. An average of five to nine patients lie in the cramped hospital ward.

Treatment in most cases is for malaria and malnutrition. Difficult cases are sent to Chiangrai, across the river in Thailand.

The hospital consists of a wooden building—set on stilts in South-east Asian style—nestled amidst trees on the top of a hill that overlooks the glistening river, at this point the border with Thailand.

Field operations are limited to an 18-mile radius. Outside that area lies territory controlled by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao. The Americans have been advised by right-wing garrison commanders here to stay out of the Communist zone.

He threw cold water on any summit meeting soon with Premier Khrushchev and on any idea it would do good if held soon.

He told those who think this country has borne too much of the world's burden too long: "We can't lay it down" . . . in this century."

4. He expects about as much tough going with Congress in 1963 as he had in 1962. In this year's election Democrats picked up four Senate seats, the Republicans two House seats.

5. He indicated none of the optimism which swept over some people here after Russia's backdown on Cuba. They seemed to see or sense big chances coming.

The Allied forces in NATO are supposed to be their first line of defense.

"Until we see some breakthrough in some one area I don't see there is much advantage in Mr. Khrushchev and I meeting, even though we have been in communication . . . I don't think there is a need for us to meet now. I think he probably feels the same way."

Christmas Leave

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Army said Wednesday 200 members of the 66th Military Police Company of Ft. Chaffee will be back home before the Christmas holidays. The troops have been on duty at Oxford, Miss., guarding James H. Meredith, a Negro student at the University of Mississippi.

at 7:30 p.m. Business of importance will be discussed.

Rev. E. A. Porchia will preach at services which will be held at the Haynes Chapel Baptist Church Dec. 25, at 2 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

A Pre-Christmas program will be presented at Bethel A.M.E. Church Sunday, Dec. 23, at 7 p.m., under the direction of Mrs. Velma Muldrew. The public is invited to attend.

Local Residents Attend Funeral Of Relative

Mrs. Gertrude Douglas and James Thorns motored to Fayette, Ark., Monday, Dec. 17 to attend the funeral of their uncle Mr. Andrew Quarles.

He was the brother of their mother, Mrs. Lanie Thorns of Pine Bluff, Ark.

Mrs. Maggie Hardy and grandson Frank Woods are spending the Christmas holidays with relatives in Omaha, Neb.

Hot Springs was first called, "Warm Springs."

Camden Plans Part Authority

CAMDEN, Ark. ZAP — The Camden City Manager Board voted Monday night to set up a port authority in expectation of increased barge traffic on the Ouachita River by 1970.

It filled out an application for a $230,000 loan from the Area Redevelopment Administration to build a 50,000 square foot warehouse and a 300-foot dock.

The board hopes the government will loan about 75 per cent of the total cost of the project. It will be built in connection with International Paper Company's present dock facilities.

The Warehouse Committee of the Camden Chamber of Commerce requested the city to establish a port.

Appointed to the port authority were Mayor Ray Parham; Garland Hurt, president of Citizens National Bank; George Lewis, former city manager and vice president of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp.; J. T. Warren, assistant mill manager of International Paper, and Walter Laney, attorney and former mayor.

Americans Live From Plastic Bags

B HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"The only thing I dislike about America is it's so bloody antiseptic," said Peter O'Toole. "Everything is in a plastic bag."

"The thing I like best about America is the ripeness of it. They talk about the pace being killing here. That simply isn't so. I find people more willing to chat in New York than in London or Stockholm."

O'Toole is a tempestuous Irishman who at 29 finds himself acclaimed by critics as perhaps Britain's finest young stage actor.

He also has leaped to international film stardom by playing the title role in "Lawrence of Arabia," a two-year job during which he learned to ride a camel and speak Arabic.

Six-foot-plus tall, blue eyed and slender—he is still regaining the 25 pounds bumped off him atop camels in the dehydrating desert heat—Peter takes his new stature in show business with an owlish look of "So what?"

"I consider myself a working actor," he said, carefully prying apart a steak.

"I'm not an archbishop of mediocrity—I'm just a bloody good journeyman actor."

O'Toole, a son of County Galway, was bitten by the acting bug at the age of 6. But after quitting school at 14 he worked as an office boy and newspaper reporter, and served two years in the British submarine service before entering the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art.

Since then he has appeared in some 75 plays, winning comparison by critics in his Shakespearean roles to Sir Laurence Olivier and Sir John Gielgud.

He is by turns moody, self-critical and ebullient as a fountain—a thoroughly normal Irishman.

Noted for his intensity and exuberance on or off stage, O'Toole has little sympathy for an existence of cautious safety.

"This whole business of taking away the sharp edge of living—this endless demand for tranquility—is terribly destructive," he said.

"Life isn't meant always to be tranquil and happy."

"Conflict is as much a part of living as breathing is. The stresses are not pleasant, but they are as important as the happiness of life."

"Since everyone today is supposed to be afraid of something, I asked Peter to name his fears."

"The dark, being alone," he said hesitantly. "The usual things. I'd like to keep as far away from the grave as possible."

"I'm supposed to be a rather violent man, but I think the only reason I'm violent is that I'm afraid of violence."

Bobcats Down Mena, Lady Cats Edged

By CARTER HARDAGE

Wednesday at the Nashville Tournament Hope split even. The Lady Cats were edged out 41-39 by Prescott, but the Bobcats downed Mena 54-42.

Hope's senior girls had a real battle in their 41-29 defeat by Prescott. Prescott led 12-11 at the first quarter, but Hope came up to make it 21-21 for the Cats. In a disastrous third quarter Prescott outscored the locals 10 points to make it Prescott, 35-Hope 28. But this only made Hope come back harder and a slim 2 point advantage saved Prescott. At the final buzzer it was 41-29. Prescott's Annette Hatfield was high with 16 points. Shirley Smith had 12 and Janice Lloyd racked up 11. Buchanan scored 21 for Prescott.

A good fourth quarter enabled the senior girls to overcome the Mena Bears 54-42. Mena was ahead at the end of the first quarter 10-6. Hope then came back into the lead at 21-15 for the halftime score. Mena edged up slightly, but at the third quarter's end, the Bears still trailed 35-33. But Hope stepped up the pace and stayed ahead for a 54-42 score. Dan Jones was again high scorer with 16. Earl Ray Murphy had 15 for a close second. Others adding to the Bobcats points were Russell, McPartly with 3; Allen with 2; and Porterfield and Burnett rounding out the score with 1 apiece. Jones was high rebound man with 11.

Georgia Tech Is a Comer in Basketball

Cornell's new Georgia Tech, a rambling, two-story building and a threatening pose some problems for Southeastern Conference basketball teams.

Coach John Hyder's Engineers generally picked among the also-rans in the pre-season predictions, now have won five straight and are making noises which are being heard with some apprehension in the SEC.

One of the louder noises was an 84-71 triumph Wednesday night over a good North Carolina State team which had lost only one game.

In other major action fourth-ranked Chicago Loyola continued its rampage with a 106-94 win over Indiana, Xavier of Ohio upset St. Bonaventure 86-77, Wake Forest subdued Maryland 85-74. Princeton won its sixth without loss in an 84-69 rout of Rutgers and fifth ranked Mississippi State crushed Christian Brothers 106-71.

Another Grant From Government

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Vocational Education Division will have received $302,000 from the federal government by shortly after the first of the year, Mario Adams, director, said Monday.

Adams told the state Board of Education at a meeting that the money is being used for manpower development and outlined programs underway at Fort Smith and Pine Bluff.

He said programs are needed at Jonesboro to train machinists, at Blytheville to train automobile and farm machinery mechanics, in Poinsett County for farm equipment operators and in Fulton County for nurses.

The division has already spent $141,000 for such programs in the state, Adams said, including $50,000 at Little Rock, $9,000 at Salem, $12,000 at Pine Bluff and $70,000 at Ft. Smith out of the $202,000 vanced to the division by the federal government, Adams said.

Burns Fatal

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Evelyn Marie Jolly, 6, died Monday of burns received last Tuesday when her clothing caught fire from an open stove. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Jolly of Conway. The child received burns over 75 per cent of her body and had been in critical condition in a Little Rock hospital since she was admitted following the accident.

Birch Society

LOS ANGELES (A)—Former Republican congressman John H. Rousselot has been named district governor for the John Birch Society's six western states.

The society's leader, Robert Welch, announced the appointment to the full-time job Monday. The post covers California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Nevada and Idaho.

Rousselot was defeated in a reelection bid last month.

for its fifth victory against a single loss.

Georgia Tech won only one conference games on route to a 10-16 record last season, and wasn't generally regarded as a major threat to such powerhouses as Mississippi State and Kentucky.

Georgia Tech, however, now owns victories over such highly regarded opponents as Furman, Rice, Southern Methodist and Wednesday night's victim, North Carolina State.

Leslie Hunter produced 17 points and 19 rebounds for Chicago Loyola, which went over 100 points for the sixth straight game against Indiana.

Wake Forest's triumph over Maryland allowed the Deacons to tie Duke for the Atlantic Coast Conference lead, each with 3-0 league marks.

Sophomore standout Bill Bradley turned in another sparkling performance for Princeton, hitting eight of 14 field goal attempts and all nine free throws against Rutgers.

Mississippi State got 22 points from Joe Dan Gold and 20 from Stan Brinker in the easy conquest of Christian Brothers.

Boyer Scores 35 But LSU Wins 72-70

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The powerful and mobile Bayou Bengals of Louisiana State slipped past the University of Arkansas 72-70 Wednesday night in basketball, despite a 35-point scoring effort of Tommy Boyer.

Boyer, all-time nation champion of free-throw accuracy, hit 14 of 18 field goals and connected on all seven of his charity shots.

The LSU squad perplexed Arkansas with a fast break in the first half, then held the Razorbacks off with superior height after they gained their poise.

LSU pulled down 43 rebounds to 34 for Arkansas and that was the difference, since the Porkers had the best shooting average, 47.3. The Bengals hit at a 42.9 per cent clip.

The victory gave LSU a 4-1 record for the season. Arkansas will enter the All-College Tournament in Oklahoma City Dec. 27-29 with a 3-3 card in intercollegiate games.

LSU's victory gave them a 3-2 lead in the series of games between the two teams. The Porkers downed the Bengals 84-81 last year in an overtime game.

The Razorbacks didn't begin to close the gap on LSU until Maury Drummond, a 6-7 rebounding whiz, fouled out with nine minutes to play.

The visitors took a nine-point lead early in the first half, but after Drummond, who led in the rebound department with 13, left the game Arkansas came on strong.

The Porkers tied the score 62-62 on a jump shot by Warren Vogel and again at 66-66 on a free throw by Boyer with 3:50 left.

Jack Belcher dumped a 30-foot jump shot for LSU and Dick Maile hit two free throws to give the Tigers a four-point lead.

Boyer sacked two free throws, but Howard Keene matched it for the Bengals and Boyer's jump shot with four seconds left was insufficient.

Maile led LSU in scoring with 22 points. Sam Chase had 16, Ellis Cooper 14 and Kenne 10.

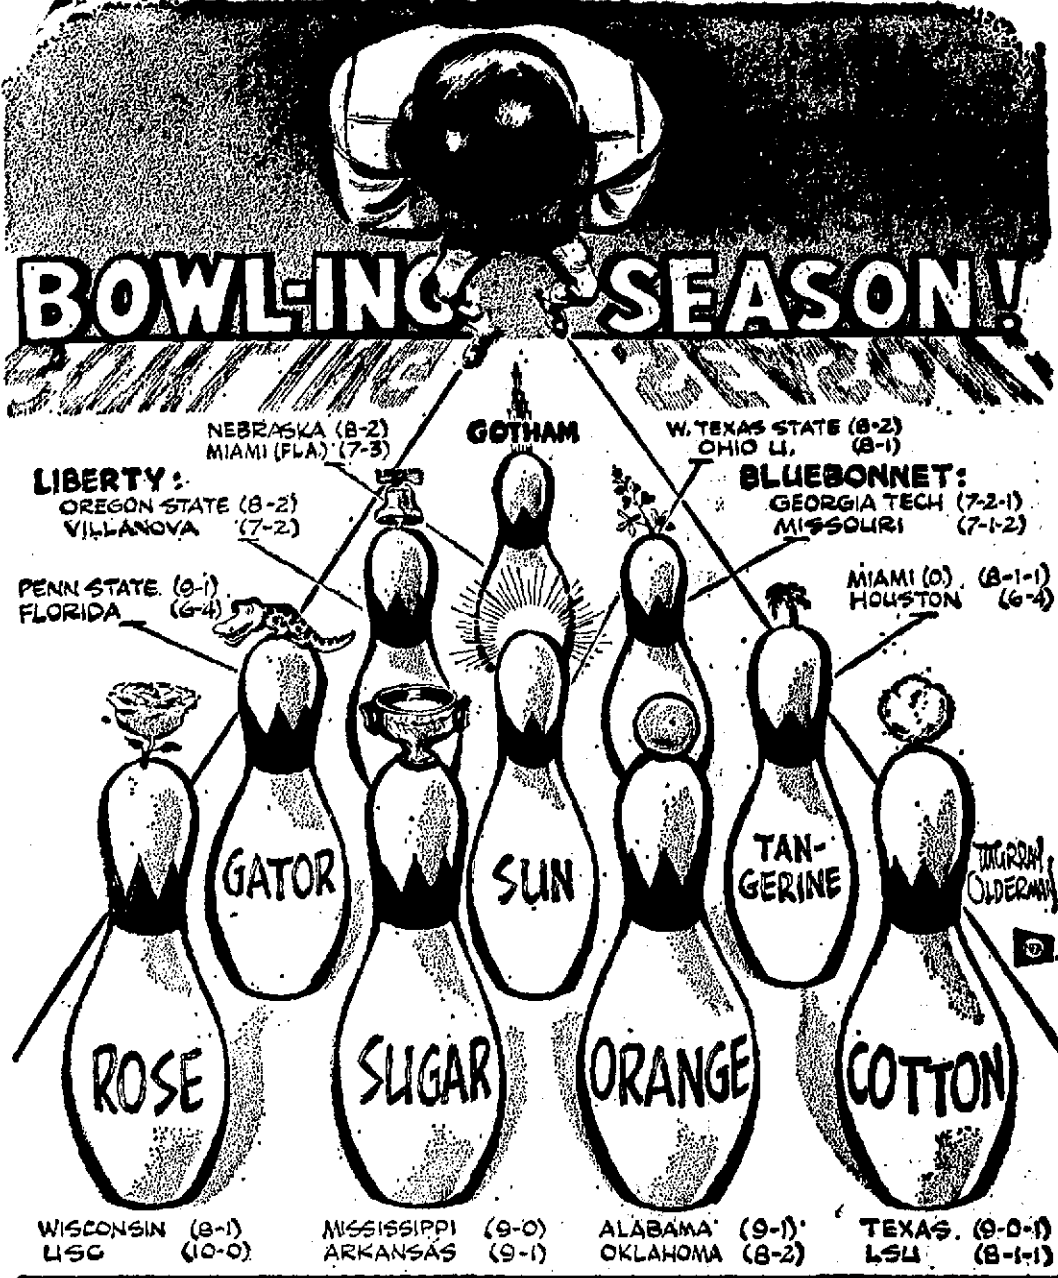

Boyer was the only Arkansas player to hit in the double figures.

Oddities in Football Every Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Every college football season produces some oddities, but three of them take the cake this time and all of them involve the forward pass.

Many other freak and unusual situations came to light in the annual year-end Associated Press situations came to light in the annual year-end Associated Press pool of the past pigskin parade, but the three incidents mentioned wound up in a dead heat at the top.

Kaiser in Unique Labor Agreement

FONTANA, Calif. (AP) — Kaiser Steel Corp. and the United Steelworkers have unveiled a unique new labor agreement designed to ease the pinch of automation.

The plan, announced Monday, was developed in three years of meetings by a special, nine-man committee.

The agreement provides for retraining employees who lost their jobs because of automation.

And, as production costs per item decrease, worker pay checks will get larger. So also will tax payments to the government and, of course, company profits. This portion of the pact is called a "cost savings" plan.

The agreement is subject to worker approval, but David J. McDonald, president of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers of America, predicted at the joint news conference here Monday that it will pass handily.

The election probably will be held in January, he added.

Affected will be all the 7,000 Kaiser workers here.

The pact includes a pledge that employees will receive at least the wage level of the steel industry.

"There has to be a floor," said a company spokesman, "and it will be the Big Steel floor. But we never expect it to be considered because this plan will provide a higher income than the minimum."

McDonald called the agreement "a great step forward toward industry peace." He declined to say whether the plan will be pushed for adoption elsewhere.

The contract is to be four years in effect and subject to annual revision and review.

The cost savings plan works like this:

The year 1961 was selected as a base to determine the costs of labor and material for each ton of finished steel.

As technology increases output, unit costs are expected to decrease. It is this savings which will go into the special fund for monthly distribution. The employees will get 32.5 per cent of the total.

Officials pointed out that the plan is different from most incentive and profit-sharing plans because it is based on production costs instead of on an individual

Pine Bluff Bond Issue Challenged

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A Pine Bluff realtor filed suit Monday in 4th District Chancery Court here contesting the validity of Pine Bluff's $2,214,000 civil center bond issue and seeking a temporary restraining order to prevent printing or sale of the bonds.

E. W. Hood filed the suit which said the city's bond issue ordinance was unconstitutional because proper provisions were not made for balloting on each separate proposal.

He asked a restraining order to enjoin Mayor Office Lites and eight aldermen from selling the bonds, contending the Pine Bluff City Council had been given "the carte blanche authority to sell the bonds at any rate they see fit."

Voters at Pine Bluff did not vote on each section of the bond issue singly and Hood's suit did not specify what proper provisions allegedly were lacking.

The bond issue was passed by a 2-1 margin in the general election Nov. 6 and would be used to purchase site and construct new buildings in a 53-acre area in downtown Pine Bluff.

The proposal included these amounts, all of which were passed:

1. For site and construction of a city hall, $564,000;
2. For site and construction of a central fire station, $650,000;
3. For site and construction of a public library, $620,000;
4. For site and construction of streets adjacent to the civic center;
5. For a site for an auditorium, $800,000.

The ordinance in question was passed by the Pine Bluff City Council at a meeting Sept. 29, 1962, setting the purpose of the issue and the date of the election.

Hood opposed the bond issue before the election and campaigned against it. The mayor and aldermen have 20 days in which to file an answer to the complaint.

Chancellor Joseph Morrison of Stuttgart will preside in the case. He is out of the state this week.

Confederate Flag Replaces U.S.

VIDALIA, La. (AP)—Since federal troops moved onto the University of Mississippi campus more than two months ago, the American flag has not flown atop the Concordia Parish courthouse.

In its place flies the stars and bars, the battle flag of the Confederacy.

S. L. Winston Jr., head of the parish government, commented: "I'd say 75 per cent of our people are in favor of this."

Entertainment to Suffer Tax Clamp

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The entertainment industry at Hot Springs will apparently feel the brunt of the Internal Revenue Service clampdown on tax deductions for business expense, on Associated Press survey revealed Monday.

Supper club managers in the resort city generally agreed that proposed changes in expense account tax regulations will affect their business adversely. Some hotel and restaurant managers — where businessmen entertain clients for a weekend or longer — foresaw a major impact on their business.

Over the state, managers hotels and restaurants who cater primarily to the traveling businessman or salesman who simply want to take a client to dinner, predicted a much lighter affect.

Just what the new regulations will mean, no one was sure. The Little Rock Internal Revenue Service office said it expected details on the new rules next week.

In Little Rock, hotel, motel and restaurant managers felt the decline in business would be light.

Jack Dallas, manager of the Embury restaurant, said his business would not be affected unless under the new regulations a meal for a client is not considered a legitimate business expense.

Dallas said, "We don't serve drinks. All our customers pay for a meal. We're setting up a system to let our regular customers pay monthly to help them keep records for tax purposes."

At the Marion Hotel assistant manager Hubert Terrell said he didn't foresee a major decline in the hotel's regular business. Convention entertaining might be hurt if companies feel they can no longer maintain rooms for delegates, he said.

Around the state, most managers felt they would be hurt less than those in Hot Springs, which has more facilities for entertainment. They also felt Arkansas would not feel the impact of the new regulations as much as those states with plush entertainment centers.

Many of the spa establishments have bars and slot machines, some have floor shows and gambling tables—equipment associated with major entertainment spending—and managers of establishments there did not want to be quoted by name.

Little Rock public relations firm co-owner Al Pollard said he felt the new IRS regulations wouldn't hurt the "Run of the mill" businessman "as expenses usually

No Prosecution for Gambling

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Justice Department plans no further prosecution of gambling violations in the West Memphis area, U.S. Attorney Robert D. Smith said Monday.

Most of the night club operations in the area closed down after the conviction of Andrew Bass on charges of causing four employees to travel across state lines in conduct gambling enterprises, the Justice Department said.

Smith said the operations that closed down were smaller than that operated by Bass, who was sentenced in federal district court to three years in prison.

Bass' attorney has filed notice of appeal.

Smith said it was possible that the Justice Department could alter its present policy and seek indictments against West Memphis clubs if they re-open in violation of federal anti-gambling laws.

Penders Case in Hands of U.S. Court

NEW YORK (AP)—Boxer Paul Pender's bid to regain the New York version of the world middleweight title was in the hands of a Supreme Court Justice today.

Justice Arthur G. Klein reserved decision on a move by Pender, an ex-Marine from Brookline, Mass., to set aside the action of the New York Athletic Commission, which stripped him of the title for failing to defend it in the allotted six months.

In court Monday, Pender's attorney, George Gallant said that 11 days after Pender regained the New York, Massachusetts and European portion of the middleweight crown this year, the boxer signed to fight Gene Fullmer, who was recognized as champion in the other states.

Gallant said that the fight was canceled by the promoter through no fault of Pender.

The attorney also maintained that Pender, although injured in an automobile accident, continued to try to get fights with recognized contenders, and finally signed on Aug. 20 to fight Jose Torres of New York.

Assistant Attorney General Irving L. Rollins resisted the application.

aren't too high."

Pollard said, "any curtailment in spending would depend on whether people think they'll lose business if they do not entertain. One bad thing about this is that looser spending regulations in the past have caused customers to expect the red carpet treatment."

cation. He maintained that Torres was an "unrated fighter." Rollins said the commission insisted on suitable contenders.

"If not, a fighter would pick a soft touch," he said.

Pender won his portion of the 160-pound title from Sugar Ray Robinson Jan. 27, 1960, and lost it July 1961, to Terry Downes of England. He regained it from Downes on April 7 this year.

Fullmer lost his share of the crown to Dick Tiger of Nigeria in San Francisco Oct. 23.

Would Force UA Housing Integration

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The president of the Arkansas branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said today that a lawsuit to force desegregated housing at the University of Arkansas is definitely a possibility.

Howard said George Howard, a Pine Bluff Negro attorney, he hopes a suit can be avoided.

A group of Negro and White students picketed the university's main library for about an hour Monday in protest against alleged racial discrimination in housing. There was no disturbance.

The pickets said they decided to call off further demonstrations, at least until after the holidays.

Howard said "a couple of students" approached the NAACP about the problem and requested aid.

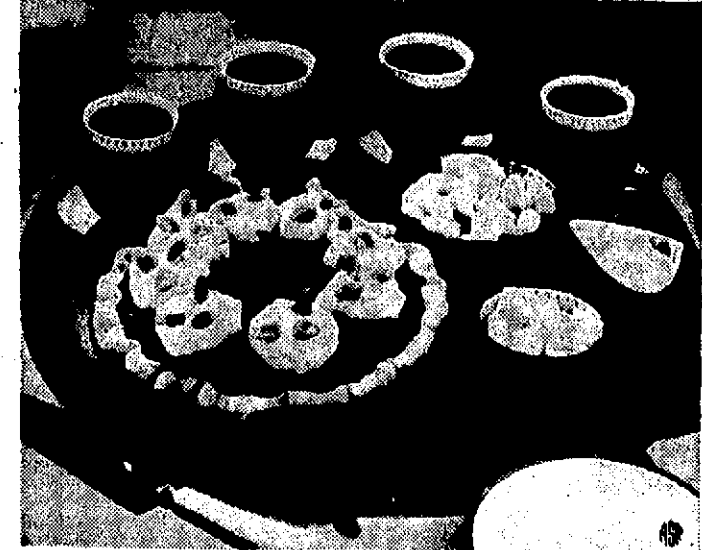

"A lawsuit is in the making in the event one becomes necessary," Howard said. He added that he hoped it would not, and noted that the university "has enjoyed good public relations in respect to race relations over the years."

He said the university voluntarily integrated its classes in 1947 and that Negro students previously have been housed in desegregated facilities.

The students said the university's present policy, under which it provides a dormitory for Negro women and no facilities for Negro men, violates an executive order issued Nov. 20 by President Kennedy, which prohibits discrimination in buildings built with federal financial assistance.

The university said in a statement that Negroes have free use of university facilities, except for university housing. "Negro women are housed in a separate residence hall," it said "University housing is not provided for Negro men nor is it provided for approximately 50 per cent of our entire male student body. The university, of course, attempts to aid all male students in locating adequate off-campus housing."

Make A Hit With Cocoa-Almond Pie

When it's time for a party at your house, "Cocoa-Almond Party Pie" will guarantee its success. The creamy chocolate filling floats on a bed of finely-chopped almonds in this elegant chilled dessert. To give it extra flair, you might top the pie with dollops of whipped cream encrusted with crisp toasted almond halves.

Whether chopped, halved, diced, slivered or whole, crunchy almonds always provide unique flavor and texture. Use them in poultry stuffings, soups, sandwich fillings and sauces for meat, fish and vegetables.

Cocoa-Almond Party Pie
1/2 cup finely-chopped almonds
1 baked 8-inch pastry shell
1 envelope plain gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup unsweetened sifted cocoa
1 cup sifted powdered sugar
1 pint whipping cream
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sprinkle almonds into bottom of pastry shell. Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve over hot water. Remove from heat. Combine cocoa, powdered sugar, whipping cream and vanilla. Beat until light and fluffy. Gradually beat in dissolved gelatin. When mixture forms stiff peaks, turn into pastry shell. Refrigerate several hours before serving. If desired, garnish with dollops of whipped cream and toasted almond halves.

Makes 1 (8-inch) pie.

Howard would not comment on the possible date for filing the suit. Nor would he reveal names of students who talked with the NAACP about it.

Assails Plan for Norstad to Take Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., assailed today a reported plan to put Gen. Lauris Norstad at the head of the projected new space satellite communications system.

Morse, in a statement, said the appointment of Norstad or any other military man, active or retired, "is not in the public interest."

His statement grew out of a published report that Norstad has been persuaded by Philip Graham, president of the Washington Post, to accept the chairmanship of the executive committee of the new system. Graham heads the board named by President Kennedy to set up the system.

Norstad retires in January as supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe, a post in which

MAN ON THE SKEWBALD MARE

By Nelson C. Nye

By NELSON C. NYE
XXII

"Where is he?" Duke cried testily. Somebody else growled. "There's his pack horse!" and Spangler said, "He's down there someplace without he's got wings. We'll cover you, Brill. Go take a look."

It got quiet again. Then Spangler shouted: "Are your feet froze, Brill, or is it just your hearin'?" "You think he's under that horse?"

Spangler's voice, edged with fury, came impatiently through it. "Duke, take Penitence an' go round the other way. There's enough brush down there."

"Not me," Duke snarled. "Who do you think you're talkin' to?" Rafe could feel the silence like a hand pushing at you. Then saddle leather squeaked, a horse moved off, and Rafe reckoned Spangler had gone himself. This did not greatly ease his tension or noticeably improve the look of his chances.

Spangler, when he got into the gulch, would fire the brush, lighting up this trail like a barn afire. If Spangler couldn't see him one of his men still up there with Duke — knowing Rafe couldn't watch two ways at once — likely could be induced to come down from above, or they might rush him. Rafe certain sure wouldn't want to wait for that.

But if Rafe tried to get back down into the gulch he was pretty near bound to be heard. With so much angry lead slashing around it was hard to see how all of it could miss him.

And what about Spangler? A crack shot, probably, and knowing this range as Rafe never could.

Scowling, Rafe got out of his boots, removed their spurs and pushed them deep into his pockets. Looping the boots through his belt by their pull-straps he rebuckled it around him in such a manner the boots were held against his rump where they weren't so apt to go knocking into things.

He looked again, long and wistful, in the direction his skewbald mare had bolted. Finally, clamping his jaws, he began gingerly picking his way toward the rim.

The cold shale-littered trail was hard on his feet. The quiet up on top where the crew stood waiting was even harder to endure, so greatly did the peril of discovery restrict each tentative impulse toward movement. The strain got worse with every step put behind him.

He breathed a little freer when a murmured altercation briefly flared, but Duke's angry tones swiftly broke this up, Rafe having gained scarcely more than two yards.

He still had about three more to go, and time was running out. If Spangler got his fire started before Rafe could manage to get over the lip, that old sweet chariot was going to swing low.

This was not a particularly comforting thought.

For close-in fighting — and it would be that kind if he had any chance at all — Rafe would much have preferred to depend on his belt gun. He found it awkward to be totting a weapon in each fist, and he sure wasn't about to throw away that carbine. He stuck the pistol into the front of his pants and then, bent double, put another yard behind him.

It was slow, sweaty work and any moment, he thought bitterly, that cold-jawed Spangler might get into the gulch and touch off the brush. Or one of those muttering jaspers up above might take it into his nut to look over. Even if the guy couldn't see him he would have to be deaf, if he was that close, not to know somebody was moving right under him. But nobody looked. There was no sound of boots. The Bender crew, evidently, was too indifferent, too lazy or too cautious to move out of their tracks. Weren't muttering now, either. Rafe, straining his ears till he thought they'd snap off, couldn't hear a dang thing and his back was killing him.

He eased down on his knees, nerves screwed so tight they were like piano wires. He put down his saddle gun to flex cramped fingers and rub the damp off them. The rim was so near he could pretty near touch it — about a yard to go.

He got to chewing his lip, trying to figure which was like to hold the most chance — to bust right on into them or try to wriggle through.

He was still on his knees, trying to make up his mind, when the black loom of the cliff face dissolved into flickering shadows.

Rafe didn't wait for any leaden translations. Scooping up his carbine, he surged to his feet and scrambled over the rim in one wild leap. He was among them before Spangler's hardcases got hold of their wits enough to know what was happening.

They were all afoot. The meaty impact of Rafe's carbine dropped one like a torn sack, sent a second rina staggering. Then like a swarm of hornets, they were all over him, swinging and swearing, clawing like wildcats to get him down.

Then somebody leaped on Rafe's back, almost knocking him down.

Blue Law Review Is Refused

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to review a decision upholding validity of Kentucky's Sunday closing law.

The decision, by the Kentucky Court of Appeals, declared the law valid under the Kentucky and U.S. constitutions.

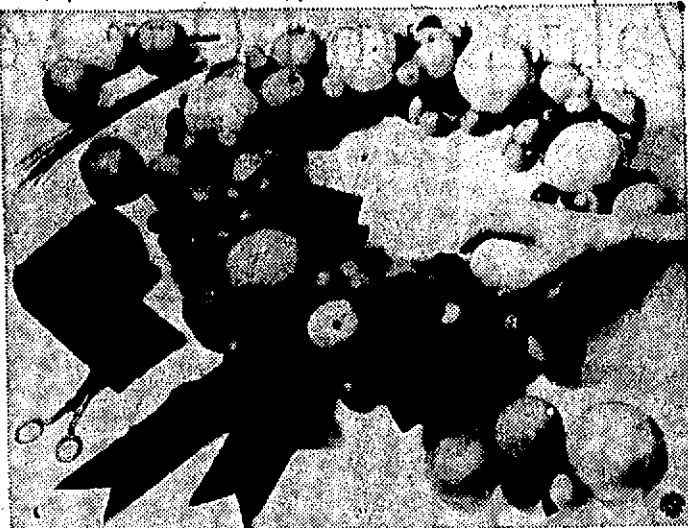

Arlan's Department Store of Louisville, Inc., and Evans Furniture Co., were fined $20 each for employing persons on Sunday. The stores appealed to the high tribunal, contending terms of the Kentucky law disclosed an intent to aid religion in violation of the U.S. Constitution.

The Supreme Court, in decisions announced May 29, 1961, upheld blue laws restricting Sunday business activities in Maryland, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania. The court said "the present purpose" of most Sunday closing laws was to provide a uniform day of rest and recreation.

The high tribunal directed that the appeal by the stores be dismissed because of lack of a substantial federal question.

Justice Douglas dissented saying that he thought the religious nature of the Kentucky Sunday closing law was emphasized by the fact that is exempted "members of a religious society who actually

Citrus Makes A Holiday Wreath!

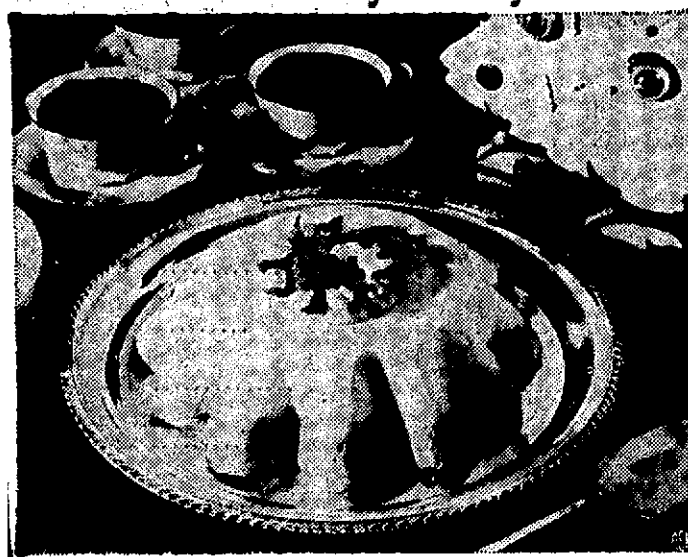

Your Christmas wreath is probably the first thing to greet the eye of a visitor entering your home during the holidays. Be original and make your own beautiful wreath using citrus and other small fruits of nature instead of the usual greens. The wreath is named Della Robbia after the famous Italian Renaissance sculptor, Andrea della Robbia, who favored round forms in his works. The Della Robbia wreath is easy and fun to make. You'll find styrofoam wreath shapes at five-and-ten-cent stores or your local florist shop. Picture the color harmony in an assortment of citrus fruits—golden oranges, deep-orange tangerines and yellow grapefruit—fruits long associated with the Christmas season and now in excellent supply from Florida. Attach the fruits to the styrofoam using wire or pipecleaners, toothpicks and skewers. Fill in the spaces with small fruits such as kumquats or lady apples, then finish with a generous red or green velvet bow and streamers.

Hang your Della Robbia wreath on a door or wall or place it over the fireplace mantle for everyone to see. The wreath will lend a lavish touch to your house throughout the holiday week. To make your Della Robbia wreath you'll need:

- Florida oranges
- Florida tangerines
- Florida grapefruit
- Kumquats (optional)
- Lady apples
- Small green leaves
- Styrofoam wreath shape
- Red or green velvet ribbon, 3 or 4 inches wide
- Florist wire or pipecleaners
- Toothpicks, 6-inch metal skewers
- Scissors

Cheers For Cheery Cherry Cream

At holiday time, a colorful dessert is one of the liveliest ways to welcome guests. Cheery Cherry Cream, a delectable dessert that derives its airy character from whipped cream, serves the purpose to perfection. Because the cream is made with unflavored gelatin, it requires no cooking—or only the few minutes it takes for the unflavored gelatin to dissolve. Once the ingredients are combined, they chill in the refrigerator until firm. And thanks to the presence of cherry-flavored brandy, the cream has an agreeably nippy flavor. The dessert may be made in a mold, but turn the mixture into a bowl or stemmed glasses if you choose. No matter how Cheery Cherry Cream comes to the table, add maraschino cherries and citron or angelica for a festive garnish.

Cheery Cherry Cream

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 3/4 cup sugar, divided
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 cup cold water
- 3 eggs, separated
- 1/2 cup cherry-flavored brandy
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix together in top of double boiler gelatin, 3/4 cup of the sugar and salt. Stir in water. Blend in egg yolks one at a time. Place over boiling water, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly (about 4 to 5 minutes). Remove from heat and stir in cherry brandy. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Gradually add remaining 1/4 cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold in gelatin mixture, then fold in whipped cream. Spoon into 5-cup mold or turn into serving bowl. Chill until firm. Garnish with a ring of whipped cream and add bits of maraschino cherry and citron or angelica. YIELD: 6 servings.

observed the Sabbath on a day other than Sunday."

Douglas added: "The law is thus plainly an aid to all organized religions, bringing to heel anyone who violates the religious scruples of the majority by seeking his salvation not through organized religion but on his own."

Kennedy gave this House leaders strong backing Monday night in his nationally televised review of his first two years in the White House.

"I hope that the Rules Committee is kept at its present number, because we can function if it isn't. We are through if we lose—if they try to change the rules. Nothing controversial in that case would come to the floor of the Congress. Our whole program in my opinion would be emasculated."

The committee controls the flow of legislation to the House floor and often has bottled up legislation its members have felt was too liberal. Much of the legislation expected to be proposed by Kennedy to the new Congress is in the liberal category and may face tough sledding in the Rules Committee.

58 Million Bushels Is Soybean Crop

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas farmers harvested 58.2 million bushels of soybeans from 2,707,000 acres this year, the Agriculture Department reported Tuesday.

The harvest represents an average yield of 21.5 bushels an acre. Harvest figures were released Tuesday on soybeans, rice, corn, wheat, peaches and pecans.

The report said Arkansas harvested 15,930,000 hundredweight of rice from 422,000 acres, an average of 3.77 bushels an acre. Corn production was 6,728,000 bushels from 207,000 acres, an average of 32.5 bushels an acre, and wheat production was 3,080,000 bushels from 112,000 acres, an average of 27.5.

Peach production was set at 1,020,000 bushels and pecan production at 3.6 million pounds.

A Christmas Special, Homemade Cake

Figs, raisins, and chopped nuts, popular sweets of the Christmas season, are used in the filling of this Holiday Layer Cake. The decorative trees are made with green decorating sugar by using a cookie cutter or cut-out stencil as a guide.

Holiday Layer Cake

- 3 cups sifted cake flour
- 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 6 dried figs, chopped
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts
- Seven Minute Frosting

Measure sifted flour, add baking powder and salt, and sift together. Cream butter until very soft. Add sugar 2 tablespoons at a time, creaming after each addition until light and fluffy. (This should take 10 minutes on an electric mixer or longer if creamed by hand.) Stir in flavorings. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Alternately add flour and milk, beating until smooth after each addition.

Evenly divide batter between three 9-inch layer pans which have been lined on the bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 30 to 35 minutes, or until cake tester inserted into centers comes out clean. (If only 2 layer pans are available, 2/3 of the batter may be held while the first two layers are baking.)

While cake cools, cover figs and raisins with boiling water. Let stand about 30 minutes. Drain and cool. Stir in nuts. Prepare Seven Minute Frosting. Add about 1 cup of the fruit-nut mixture. Spread between layers of cake. Spread remaining frosting over top and sides of cake.
